

STATISTICS

- 1) Statistics about the most used services option will display a statistic scheme with rectangles representing the amount of each services that customers book as seen on the next statistic for example:

For this purpose, will be used the facturation information and calculate how many times our customers booked each service.

- 2) Statistics about the customers amount option will display a statistic scheme where will be represented between two dates the amount of customers by month/day. This all, will be created using the information from the database and counting how many customers were on each date. On the next graphic, you can see an example:
